Part 6—Commission

To the client

The commission is negotiable. You will have to pay Goods and Services Tax (GST) on any commission charged under this appointment.

Make sure you know when the commission is payable. For example, in some situations commission may be payable even if a sale does not fully complete.

The client and the licensee agree that the maximum commission plus GST payable for the service to be performed by the responsible person is:

	Dollar amount	Percentage
Total commission
GST		10% of commission
Total payment

Percentage: Commission expressed as a percentage is worked out only on the actual sale price.

Amount: Commission expressed as an amount represents the commission payable if the vehicle/s or good/s are sold at the reserve or listing price. The amount of commission payable may vary from the amount stated.

When commission is payable to the responsible licensee .....

Part 7—Authorisation to incur fees, charges and expenses

The client authorises the licensee to incur the following expenses in relation to the performance of the service/s.

Condition of acceptance of goods for Auction - Vendors Terms

- The owner must indicate whether they are registered for GST purposes and include an ABN.
- All assets accepted will be sorted and sold in the manner determined entirely at the discretion of the Company.
- It is an express condition of acceptance that the owner acknowledges the Company holds no insurance on behalf of the owner whilst the goods are in the Company's possession. The owner should carry his own insurance for any asset in transit or the Company's possession.
- The owner warrants that all charges, liens, Government or Statutory fees, taxes and duties have been paid by the owner and indemnifies the Company against any claim or demand of any person or Government Authority or statutory body whatsoever in respect thereof.
- The owner warrants that he is the sole and unencumbered owner of all goods submitted to the Company for auction. The Company will not make a partial settlement on behalf of the Vendor to a third party without prior written agreement by the Company.
- The Company will accept goods for auction with a reserve price for one Auction only. If goods with reserve prices remain unsold after one Auction then the Company may, at its sole discretion, put the goods to sale without reserve whatsoever. The owner must collect all goods unsold within four days from the first Auction unless he wishes them to proceed to the next Auction without reserve.
- The Vendor agrees to take responsibility to enquire to the Company's office as to whether the goods have been sold at auction. The owner acknowledges that the Company will not contact the owner to give any regular report as to the status of goods so submitted by the owner.
- All goods which do not attract a bid for five dollars ($5.00) at Auction may be disposed of by the Company. Consignments with excess goods of Non Commercial value will attract a dumping fee.
- GST Inclusive the Company shall be entitled to receive a fee of the price for the goods sold by Auction currently (14.6% Commission plus advertising and handling (7.40%). Any alternative fee must be approved by the Company's manager.
- All electrical items must be in working order or they will not be accepted.
- Transport and handling costs are the responsibility of the owner. If suitable, and authorised, the Company can deduct the cost of transport from the proceeds of the sale.
- Insurance on goods in transit and in storage is the responsibility of the owner.
- All owners of the goods must make themselves aware of these terms and conditions. Irrespective of whether or not this authority is signed, the fact that the goods are presented by the owner of his/her agent and accepted by the Company, constitutes acceptance by the owner or his/her agents of acceptance of these terms and conditions.
- The Company will undertake to achieve the best possible sale price for goods submitted for auction by the owner. The owner should indicate any specific advantages, extras, manufacturer's warranties etc. The goods may have that the company may not be aware of.
- A buy's premium at a rate stated by the Company will be charged to all purchases.
- OH&S – The Occupational Health & Safety Act (1995) (The Act) and the Subsequent Regulations (1997) impose obligations in respect of safety for workers arising out of the design, manufacture and supply of Plant & Equipment for use in the workplace. Lloyds Auctioneers and Valuers (Lloyds) hereby notify and advise the Vendor that Plant & Equipment will only be accepted by Lloyds for sale on behalf of the Vendor on the express understanding that such Plant & Equipment will automatically be deemed to be not fit for use in the workplace. It is the Vendor's responsibility to comply with the obligations imposed under The Act and The Regulations and instruct Lloyds to carry out on behalf of the Vendor any particular requirements under The Act. In so far as they are available the vendor must supply any relevant OH&S information and Operators manual prepared by the manufacturer of the Plant & Equipment that is to be offered for sale; along with any previous records kept by the previous owner and/or Vendor under the requirements of The Regulations. Where no such information and/or records are available no liability for their absence is assumed by Lloyds.
- The vendor agrees that no reserves under $50 will be accepted by the Auctioneer. Further, the Vendor expressly agrees that he is consigning on the basis that the item will be sold to the highest bidder and any item under an auction value of $50 is not deemed to be commercial to apply a reserve to. The highest bid shall be accepted by the vendor and the matter will be final. A administration fee of $5.00 (five dollars) for any vendor requiring a reserve under $50 will be charged if the items highest bid is less than $50.
